Two junior members and two guests signed-on to fish the first match in the Jurassic League series on a sunny and warm day with hardly a breath of wind. All week leading up to this match we had seen reports of white bait being washed ashore chased by Mackerel, so the competitors hopes were high that the Mackerel would show during th match, they were not disappointed.

At times it seemed the sea was boiling with Mackerel as they chased after the white bait and it wasn't long before the entrants were catching some. Most of them caught were of non-sizable weight but Liddy & Harry managed to weigh in some sizable ones. Those not kept for bait or the table were returned.

Species caught: Mackerel, Corkwing Wrasse and Whiting.

The winner Harry Dean who was fishing as a guest managed a sizable weight of 732gms (sizable always take precedence over non-sizable fish) Harry won an extra prize this week, a box of chocolate fingers donated by Frances Kitchin, which Harry duly shared amongst the competitors.
